A Comprehensive Easy-To-Use Solution For:

TALKTACTICS – WHAT MAKES US UNIQUE?

We are a New Zealand company who has been helping New Zealand and global organisations since 2001 develop and empower their most important assets – their people. We do this by deploying comprehensive learning and competency management solutions to fit organisations of all sizes. The outcome – rapid and consistent development of employee skills across your organisation to meet business goals.

Our on-demand web-based learning platform is fast, highly cost-effective, fully secure and flexible to your needs. Our on-demand software architecture is flexible and highly scalable and unlike most learning management systems, can be implemented across your organisation in weeks, in some case even days!

Our learning management solutions are fully hosted and web-based, so cost of ownership is low. Implementation time and risk is low, as there is no in-house software to install or complex licensing and system maintenance fees to pay. TalkTactics offer a Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) solution with subscription based pricing, so your costs are opex not capex based.
